

Romantic Golf Getaways: Top Resorts for Couples in the US

There are a lot of golf resorts in America— over 200 in our database— so this Valentine’s Day, we thought it would be appropriate to highlight some of the best golf resorts in America for couples. To do this, we came up with two criteria to whittle down the list. First, we wanted to find resorts that cater to couples. As a father of two, it’s nice sometimes to get away from the kids and go somewhere that’s centered around adults. Second, we wanted to find resorts with amenities and activities that would be enjoyable whether or not your significant other plays golf. Here are some of the resorts that really stood out to us:

Keswick Hall Keswick, VA

Located two hours southwest of Washington, D.C. just outside of Charlottesville, Keswick will probably be lesser known than many of the resorts on this list. While this boutique hotel is smaller, it’s chock-full of quality. Jean-Georges has a restaurant there called Marigold, and the spa does not cut any corners. The T-shaped infinity pool is a great place to lounge, and the newly redesigned tennis facility features European red clay surfaces. Pete and Alice Dye redesigned the layout in 2013 and Dye protege Scot Sherman recently renovated the course, one of the best in central Virginia.

Keswick Hall (Photo: Virginia.org)